Replifate Internal Meeting | Amsterdam, 18-19 November 2024

The Replifate consortium will gather at the Netherlands Cancer Institute (NKI), Amsterdam, for two days of scientific presentations, work package discussions, student activities, meetings with industrial partners and networking events.

The programme will include presentations from doctoral candidates and researchers across the consortium, dedicated sessions for students and supervisors, meetings with SME partners, and an Artist in Residence session exploring the intersection between science and society. The event will conclude with consortium meetings and a networking dinner on 19 November 2024.
